

Natural Building Workshop, April 14-15.
Learn to Build a Wood-Fired Earthen Oven!
at The Duckpond Pottery

Join us for this workshop and learn how to make a super insulated, WOOD-FIRED OVEN oven to cook bread, pizza, cookies, cakes, pies, casseroles, stews, and so much more!

Location: The Duckpond Pottery, Brevard, N.C.

Friday, April 13: 6:00 p.m--8:00

Opening meet and greet Barbecue. Instructor, Eva Edleson, will give a short talk on natural building and present a slide show of past projects.

Saturday, April 14 & Sunday, April 15: 10 a.m.--4:00 p.m
Hands on oven building workshop!

Not only is building a wood fired earthen oven fun, it will give participants the skills needed for tackling countless other natural building projects!

Workshop will be led by Eva Edleson, a professional natural builder, gardener, and craftsperson with over a decade of experience in earthen wall systems, wood-fired cooking and naturally based paints and plasters. She and her husband reside in Deadwood, Oregon where together they run the natural building company Firespeaking - www.firespeaking.com

Cost: $100.00 per person. Lunches provided on Saturday and Sunday

Registration: For more information or to register for this workshop, contact Nick Friedman--duckpondpotter@gmail.com or call (828) 883-4512