Modules

This drawing shows the 5-Run custom masonry heater design as a series of individual modules including:

- the base (variations for additional heated bench sides)
- the firebox; a standardized design featuring EcoFirebox design
- the oven (optional)
- the heat exchanger module - in this case the 5-Run configuration which provides for a symmetric top-vented heater.

This modular approach allows for a unified design methodology for a wide variety of heater types. Individual modules can be varied while the rest of the design stays standard, especially the firebox.
